Associates receive annual performance and salary reviews including written evaluations from shareholders, which is then submitted to the Executive Committee. Progression toward shareholder status is discussed and mentored throughout an associate's career.

The Firm is a big supporter of continuing legal education. It encourages associates to attend related practice area programs and pays for admission to relevant seminars. The Firm also holds weekly seminars on a wide array of legal topics, enabling an opportunity to earn MCLE credit, as required by the California State Bar.

FRBC is committed to equal employment opportunity for all applicants and employees. We value diversity and solicit applications from qualified individuals. All inquiries will be kept in strict confidence. The highest quality legal representation demand the highest quality associates. If you seek challenging and rewarding employment, please forward a cover letter and resume to: hr@frandzel.com.
